Virgin Vengeance is also available as a feature

Scene 4

Setting: In the Kirk living room is a large couch in the middle of the stage. There is a coffee table in front of it. Family pictures hang on the wall.

At Rise: JACOB and REBECCA sit on a couch.

Note: They are upper class.

(Jacob holds a piece of paper in one hand. He plays with a pocket knife with the other hand. Rebecca looks at the paper with him.)

JACOB

Kara! Come here!

(KARA enters.)

KARA

Yes daddy?

JACOB

Why do you have a C in Biology?

KARA

I don't get it.

JACOB

What do you mean?

KARA

It's hard. We are talking about cells and it makes no sense.

JACOB

What doesn't make any sense?

KARA

I don't know, that's why I have a C. The teacher talks and talks and it's so boring. I can barely understand anything.

JACOB

What do you remember?

KARA

Um... the mighty-co-dora is the brain of a cell.

(Rebecca laughs. Jacob eyes her. Rebecca stops.)

JACOB

You mean the mitochondria. Also, that's wrong. The mitochondria is the powerhouse of the cell. The nucleus is the "brain" of the cell.

KARA

You see, makes no sense.

JACOB

What are you learning in that class?

KARA

Clearly nothing. My teacher is really nice, but all I hear is "blah blah blah" when she talks about science things.

JACOB

Who is your teacher?

KARA

Miss Rayson.

REBECCA

Rayson. Natalie Rayson? Jacob, don't you remember Natalie? She went to college with us. She was the prettiest girl on campus. Everyone wanted to be her. She was very quiet though... I guess it makes sense she's an elementary school teacher now.

JACOB

I have no idea what or who you're talking about. I was never into that gossip thing like you sorority girls.

(He looks at Kara.)

JACOB (CONT'D)

Anyways, I'm going to have a talk with this Natalie Rayson. Kara, tell your teacher I want a parent-teacher meeting after school ends today.

KARA

Yes sir.

JACOB

Now, eat your breakfast. The bus will be here any minute.

REBECCA

I made you pancakes and bacon.

KARA

Thank you, mama.

(Kara gives Rebecca and Jacob a kiss on the cheek.)

Scene 5

Settings: There are a few desks in the middle of the stage. In front of them is a larger one.

At Rise: STUDENTS sit at their desks. Natalie is in front of them.

(The bell rings.)

NATALIE

Sit down, students. Sit down.

(Kara enters. She walks towards Natalie.)

KARA

Hi Miss Rayson.

NATALIE

Kara Kirk. Please take your seat.

KARA

Of course, but I need to tell you something. My dad wants to talk to you after school is over.

NATALIE

Okay. Is that all?

KARA

One more thing. I learned something. Mitochondria is the powerhouse of the cell and the nucleus is the brain of the cell.

(Natalie smiles.)

NATALIE

Well done, Kara.

(They high five each other.)

NATALIE

Now go ahead and sit down.

KARA

Yes ma'am.

(Kara sits.)

NATALIE

Now class, who knows what the cell wall is?

(Students raise their hands.)

Scene 6

Setting: Classroom.

At Rise: An empty classroom. Only Natalie is there.

(Knock on the door.)

NATALIE

You may enter.

(Jacob enters. Immediately, Natalie backs up. Hyperventilates. and then takes a deep breath.)

JACOB

You must be Miss Rayson. I'm Jacob Kirk, Kara's dad.

(Jacob freezes. Natalie addresses the audience.)

NATALIE

I know this man. You might know him, too. The famous Jacob Kirk. Football player. Phi Alpha Phi president. Fuck boy. A bit of an alcoholic. Ten years ago, this man was the most popular person in college. I know, popularity isn't usually a thing in college. You might hear a name a couple times. You might recognize a face, but for the most part, people stay in their own groups. Somehow, Jacob Kirk was the exception. He had a very big personality. His voice could be noticed across a football field. He was funny. Smart. Drunk. Always drunk. The source of my nightmares. Everyone wanted him, except me. I think that turned him on, because as soon as he saw his opportunity... he took me. He stole virginity as soon as he had the chance. I was heartbroken. A little tipsy. Alone. Weak. I couldn't fight back, but I tried. He just laughed at me and choked me to hold me down.

(Jacob unfreezes.)

JACOB

Nice to meet you.
